

501c3 Status: Are You Ready?

By Carol L. Topp, CPA

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) application for 501(c)(3) tax exempt status can be beneficial, but a daunting task. The form (Form 1023) is twenty-two pages long. The IRS designed it to encourage nonprofits to be well organized and serious about their tax exempt status.

According to IRS statistics, about 23% of applications for tax exempt status are not granted. This is usually because the applicant drops out of the system, not because the IRS rejects them. The IRS actually approves 99.3% of applicants who complete the process<sup>1</sup>. Applicants drop out because they realize that they are not ready. Sometimes they cannot supply what the IRS is requesting such as by laws, board members' names, conflict of interest policies, accurate financial records, etc. In order to have success with the 501(c)(3) application, you must be prepared.

Here's a check list to see if your organization is ready:

- Do you have a Board of Directors, regular meetings and a method to elect the board?
- Do you have a Conflict of Interest policy?
- Do you have Articles of Incorporation and by-laws?
- Do your Articles of Incorporation (or bylaws) contain the IRS required language regarding purpose, inurement and dissolution?
- Do you keep minutes of your meetings?
- Do you have five years of financial history or can you predict two years of budgeted financial statements?
- Do you have a mission statement?
- Would you be willing to forgo any political candidate endorsements?
(501(c)(3) organizations may not endorse political candidates)
- Do you have enough money to pay the IRS filing fee of $400-$850?

If you said no to any of these items, you are not ready for 501(c)(3) application. Work to get your group ready and the process will go smoothly.

Carol L. Topp, CPA is the author of Homeschool Co-ops: How to Start Them, Run Them and Not Burn Out and The IRS and Your Homeschool Organization. She enjoys using her accounting skills helping non-profit homeschool organizations. She and her family live in Cincinnati, Ohio. Her website is HomeschoolCPA.com

Copyright 2012. All right reserved.

<sup>1</sup> Prepare Your Own 501c3 Application by Sandy Deja